

Nature Card

Search for Bugs

In your backyard, while walking around your neighborhood, at the park or ocean beach be watchful for insects of every size, on or under a leaf or flying about your head.

Are they gathering food, bites of leaves, seeds, nectar from a flower or pollen from a fruit blossom?

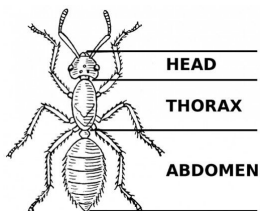

Explore more @ naturetrack.org ~ field trips ~ virtual trips

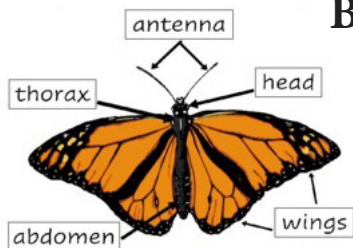

Get to know some of the insects found in your area. Ants, moths and butterflies are common insects that you might find while hiking.

A few common features of insects include: six legs in addition to a head, thorax, and abdomen body parts.

Ant

Butterfly

NatureTrack

Fostering a lifelong fascination with nature